

North Heights at work and play during school day

School of the Week:
Armuchee Middle School
4-9

Cover Story
2-3

Shortcuts
12

The St. Patrick's Day Trivia winner will be announced in next week's issue.

North Heights at work and play during school day

Students at North Heights stayed busy Tuesday as they learned math concepts by testing with golf balls, created their own cities and just readied themselves for recess after lunch.

Photos by Kristina Wilder / RN-T.com

Above: Ashlyn Ritch's fourth-grade class tests how far a golf ball can roll on a ramp from different heights.

Above, left: Heaven Cotton makes notes about the experiment in class.

Left: Kamarion Pritchett (left) and Dylan Brewer smile for the camera.

Below: Tinerious Stalling measures how far the golf ball rolled.

On the cover: Third-graders gather to await recess after finishing their lunch.

Above: Samuel Styles (left) and Devlin Sandifer work together.

Above, right: Matylan Price smiles as he discusses his project.

Right: Sinatria Borders smiles between experiments.

Far right: Arieanna Knight watches the class experiment.

Below: Ja'Caury Lofton, (from left), Tekilah Neal and Kaliyah Fletcher discuss their city project.

Below, right: Kayla Moran (left) and Emory Kidd work together during class.

